P. BURNS COMES OUT STRONGLY FOR WAR SAVINGS CAMPAIGN.

Well known Leader in Western Live Stock Industry Recommends Policy of Thrift.

P. Burns, of Calgary, is one of the best known persons west of the Great Lakes and, indeed, throughout all Canada for his many activities both in industrial and philanthropic circles have made him known far and wide. His advice on thrift is exceptionally valuable because he is a self-made man and one of the most successful business men in the Dominion. In a recent statement he says:—

"I know, everyone knows, that the word 'thrift' to many persons is repellant. It suggests a dark, grey life into which the sun is not permitted to enter. Now I may reasonably claim that I have been thrifty all my life. I may even go so far as to say that thrift is a hobby of mine—and yet it has not made the days dark for me. I do not believe in extravagance. I can see no excuse for it. I do know, on the other hand, that the man or woman or child who is rationally thrifty, gets good interest in the form of happiness. Let us all be thrifty, and that simply means being sensible, and Canada will prosper."

There are, unfortunately, people who are forced by regrettable circumstances to be thrifty to that point where they suffer. In fact they really have no money to be thrifty with. Let those of us who are better situated be thrifty and we shall improve Canada's financial and industrial and agricultural conditions, as that suffering may be reduced to an absolute minimum. We can do it.

"To my mind no better means of increasing thrift was ever offered than the National Savings Campaign. It enables everyone who can put by a few cents now and again to become a national benefactor. And in becoming a national benefactor that person helps himself or herself, for the savings bring interest at 4 1/2 per cent compounded. The National Savings Stamp at $4.03 is an incomparable investment, and the plan by which 25 cent Thrift Stamps lead up to investment in the $4.03 Stamp is unexcelled."

Italy Considers She Has Had Poor Deal

London. — Public opinion in Italy, according to a wireless message from Rome, is much excited against the peace conference for refusing to recognize the Italian claims. The attitude there is a complete truce in party politics and the newspapers are unanimous in blaming the allies. It is declared that feeling is running so high that it might have disastrous influence on Anglo-Italian relations.

The Italian consider that they have been betrayed by the allies, the dispatch says. The whole nation is aroused and has rallied to the support of Orlando and Sonnino. There is a brave army ready to make every sacrifice for the realization of their program. Many popular demonstrations have taken place and the watchword adopted is "Fiume or Death."

If the conference does not accept the Italian point of view, the situation will become extremely serious.

Germany's Idea of League

Suggest World Parliament and International Tribunal

Copenhagen. — The German counter proposals to the league of nations are outlined in a long dispatch from Berlin. The German draft proposes that the league shall embrace belligerent states and all nations which were signatories of The Hague treaty, other states to be admitted by the consent of a majority of the members of the league, but the Holy See to be admitted without this condition. It is proposed that the league shall function through a congress of states and a world parliament, the former to be the chief administrative body, comprising representatives, with equal rights, of all the governments. The world parliament is to be elected from the parliaments of each state, one representative for every million inhabitants, but no parliament to send more than ten representatives.

Further, it is proposed that two special bodies shall be created, an international tribunal and a mediation bureau, to decide questions of interest. Every difference between states must be submitted to these bodies.

No Relief for Germany

Italy Must Forego Claim to Fiume

London. — With reference to the Italian claims the Associated Press learns that under the treaty of London, Italy was entitled to Trieste, Pola and part of Dalmatia, but Fiume was to go to Croatia.

Great Britain has advised Italy in her own interests to forego some of her claims, but if she insists, in any case, as pointed out by Italy, Fiume must go to Croatia.

It is understood that President Wilson issued his statement on his responsibility, and that Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau are still actively seeking to bring about an agreement.

It was learned at Italian headquarters here this evening that the Italian delegates were first apprised of President Wilson's statement when it appeared in the afternoon papers. Premier Orlando at once sent a note to Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau asking them to bring about a compromise. It is possible after the publication of this document the Italians could remain in the peace conference. A reply had not been received up to late hour.

In the statement issued by President Wilson explaining his position on the Adriatic question he declares

Alies Welcome Delay

Will Not Hurry Germans on Account of Italian Situation

Paris. — The date of the arrival of the German peace delegation at Versailles is still not determined, and the allied representatives are apparently not pressing for haste in view of the fact that the uncertainties of the Italian situation militate possibly make an early inauguration of formal discussion between the representatives of the allied and associated powers and the Germans impossible. Delays in framing the treaty of peace is also a reason for not desiring the speedy arrival of the enemy.

It is said that a final decision has been reached as to allowing freedom of movement to the Germans as requested by Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the German foreign minister, regarding possible access by allied newspapers as representatives to the German delegation. Andre Tardieu, who is in charge of arrangements, has flatly opposed any freedom being given to the Germans and has insisted that they must continue to be treated as enemies until the treaty is signed.

Secret Treaty Exposed

Telegram Showing Duplicity of Bulgaria and Austria Published

Paris. — The Journal des Debats publishes the text of the military convention between Germany, Austria, and Bulgaria, entered into at German headquarters in a treaty dated September, 1915. Clause eight shows the pressure which caused King Constantine's refusal to follow Mr. Venizelos' advice and support Serbia. The Journal des Debats also publishes a secret telegram, showing the minister of foreign affairs of Bulgaria, and Auguste Gavrilin point out that the recurrence of such traps as were laid in 1915 will not be prevented, unless the guilty states are deprived of power to harm.

May Recall Y.M.C.A. Men

Paris. — The possibility of ordering all United States Y.M.C.A. workers out of Italy is being considered by John R. Mott, of the war work council of the Y.M.C.A. There are about 200 American workers in Italy assigned to various units of the Italian army, and Mr. Mott was somewhat perturbed over the possibility that they might become involved in manifestations of anti-United States feeling.

Fiume Complications

Paris. — The situation in Fiume is complicated by the fact that the town is under the control of the allied army of the Orient, contains French and British as well as Italian troops, and although Italy claims Fiume, it is believed, would immediately provoke a diplomatic and military issue with the European allies.

Hungarians Ask For Armistice

If Soviet Government Abolishes Ali-Will Grant Request

Berlin. — The Lokal Anzeiger's Vienna correspondent says that the Hungarian soviet government request the entire mobilization, through a Hungarian diplomat in Vienna, to send delegates to Budapest to negotiate an armistice with the Russians.

"Colonel Cunningham, representing the allies, after communicating with London, for the newspaper, 'had the Hungarian diplomat in Vienna, to send delegates to Budapest to negotiate an armistice with the Russians. The advance of its troops killed the soviet government would abdicate and a new cabinet representative of all the bourgeoisie was formed and all the decrees of the soviet government were withdrawn."

British Pacifists' View

Says Terms Submitted to Germany Would Not End War

Huddersfield, Eng. — Philip Snowden, former Liberal and pacifist member of parliament, in an address at the annual conference of the Independent Labor party, said that the peace terms he submitted to Germany were not peace terms, but would not end the war. "The new peace terms," he said, "are a series of systems and classes, in which the democracies of all nations will be ranged on one side against the hereditary oppressors and exploiters. We are not a party of violence. An intelligent and unselfish democracy need not be a party to the war, nor resort to methods of violence to attain its aims. If revolution has to be achieved in Great Britain by violence, it will come from within, because of the resistance of the old order to the new birth."

A TRAGIC EVENT

It was a town girl—and the same sad story that, alas, has often been told, and has checked many a young life which had its beginning in sunshine, surrounded by luxury and the wealth of the world. Her eyes were now wild and staring, her face was flushed and her hands were nervously working. She was deeply troubled and injured woman, and we hear her saying: "Oh, cruel one, you have injured the very foundation of my being! Day by day you have tortured me, and yet I could not bear to give you up. When we first met, how you came and how you checked me! When you became my own, how my friends envied me. But your understanding is too small for my large soul. You are opposed to my advancing myself. You have injured my standing in society. If we had never met I might have walked in peace. So now begone. We part forever!" There was a moment's convulsive breathing, a gritting of teeth and a sharp sigh. It was all over. By a supreme effort she had pulled off her new shoe.

It is said that some time ago a man, it does not matter where, was on his way to borrow his neighbor's paper and was struck by lightning and instantly killed. Let a word to the wise suffice—subscribe for The Oyen News and have a paper of your own.

A young man recently sent $3 to a firm for a "marriage guide." He received a fifteen cent Bible and these words, "There is no such thing as a free lunch." He got value received, more than many get.

PRINTER'S DEVIL

The term printer's devil as applied to the boy who does the churning around a printing office has a peculiar romantic history. In early days printing was styled the "black art," and printers were supposed to be in league with Satan. But it was in the time of Miss Minstrel in Venice that the matter took a serious turn. This was the famous printer who first published the Greek and Roman classics. He took into his employ a negro boy who was homeless on the streets of Venice. The people supposed the boy was an imp from Satan and that he assisted in printing. Mobs collected about the office and were about to wreck it when the boy was brought forward and exhibited. He showed that he was rich and blood, but he was still called the "printer's devil" and every boy in his position ever since has been so called.

Yes, our garden beds we rake and all manner of pains we take to have them nice and neat, in fact they can't be. We turn our back and walk away and view, then on the coming day—horror! those beds so spick and span are clawed and walked—er—raise a kick; our neighbors' chickens running loose, and garden making's but little use, and those old hens our garden looting, may tempt us yet to do some shooting, and to alleviate our wrath, we'll make our dinner on chicken broth.

That good old proverb, "Where there's a will there's a way," has been revised to suit the situation. It now reads, "When there's a hill we're away."

WALLIS

America's Foremost Tractor.

The Wallis represents the highest type of tractor construction. It is built on the principle that the machine that does the most work on the least fuel for the greatest number of years must have the most modern design. The material and the most careful workmanship in each and every part.

The Wallis, due to advanced, simplified design weighs from 1,000 to 5,000 pounds less than other tractors designed to do the same amount of work.

By eliminating this needless weight, by making all gears of drop forged, cut and hardened steel by enclosing all working parts, including the driving gears on the rear axle, in a dust-proof case and providing an oil bath, this modern advance anced type Wallis adds 30 to 50 per cent. to the actual pulling power produced from each gallon of fuel.

In one year's work the Wallis will show the lowest cost per acre of plowing.

In its lifetime it will show the most acres plowed per dollar of your investment.

You must judge a tractor investment by what you get out of it. What it does and how long it lasts—average per gallon of fuel—cost of oil per acre—repair cost per acre—all these items must be figured in.

The Wallis is America's Foremost Tractor, as expressed by experts everywhere—simply because it does the work per dollar invested.

We have one of these Tractors in stock. If you are interested, call and inspect it.

Benton Brothers,

Local Agents, - Benton, Alberta.

Agent for the territory between Alaska and Lanfine.

A CONSTRUCTIVE FORCE.

Excerpt from The Key to the Kingdom, by H. H. Cresswell.

There is a great deal of talk about the "fraternity" of men. It is a word that is used in many different ways. It is a word that is used to describe a feeling of fellowship between men. It is a word that is used to describe a feeling of brotherhood between men. It is a word that is used to describe a feeling of unity between men.

Without friendship we could not even speak, and without scraping some of us would surely die! There is however a higher degree of fellowship than the one usually accepted. It is fraternity, and it is the fellowship from casual acquaintance and social contact to intimacy and brotherhood.

Fraternity is the binding together of individuals to the common interest. It is constitutional and mutual affection between men. It is a law of association and as old as nature, as a matter of fact it is this law that creates, develops, and perfects us.

No man can live to himself alone. He needs the help of others. He needs the help of his fellow men. He needs the help of his fellow women. He needs the help of his fellow children.

It follows therefore that happiness is dependent on receiving or giving to others. It is the giving to others that makes the difference between a selfish and a generous man.

Probably the foremost duty of fraternity was to insure safety—the safety of numbers.

Single handed, man was likely to suffer at the hands of maniacal tribes, of murderers, of robbers, and of wild beasts. He was likely to be killed, or to be left in a state of helplessness.

So man banded himself together in fraternity or community for the common good. The isolated group of men could be succeeded by a score or more of tens. The settlement became a town, the town a city.

Perhaps some say that the city is "filthy, stinking, and unwholesome." But it is not strange that thousands of men in the contemplation of the beauty of the new Jerusalem—the city of God.

Always have the cities been cited as examples of a country's greatness, activity, effort.

We see their streets alive with carriages, busy men and women intent upon their work. They swarm like bees from these lives of industry. And like the mystery of the wax out of their hives, they give us food, fuel, and comfort.

"This is a result of fraternity and co-operation. To develop this fraternal spirit, this feeling of brotherhood, this feeling of unity, is the duty of every man."

It is only natural that man's direction in opinion, shall develop in certain definite directions. And fraternity recognizing true and independent action as sacred, shall give every one the right to express it.

Secularism has ever been the common break on the car of progress. Fraternity orders strike a death blow to secularism and dogmatism. It is the freedom of speech and liberty of thought are recognized principles of fraternity.

Variety is necessary to form the character of a country. It is the variety of the landscape that makes the landscape so beautiful. It is the variety of the people that makes the people so interesting.

of men fall into place in the hands of fraternal orders, and every one is blessed in proportion to his capacity to appreciate and enjoy them.

And so fraternity stands for happiness and progress.

Man looks upon man as brother. He also becomes brother to the trees, the flowers and all plant and animal life. He is thrilled with the story of Calvary, and filled with admiration when he reads how Buddha gave himself to a famished lioness—whose dogs ran blood—so that she might nurse her young.

Such thoughts bring about mental gifts, give nobler aims and aspirations, finer ideals.

Fraternity makes for purity in thought, word and deed. Purity, Aid, Progress are the watchwords of Fraternity. These along with charity, justice and fidelity, form the foundation and fabric of Fraternal Orders everywhere.

One of the most wonderful things about Fraternal Orders is their remarkable internationality. They are everywhere.

A member of a fraternal order is a true cosmopolitan. The only drawback to perfect internationality is the difference in languages. When one is far away from his own country, then one realizes more the value of his own language whatever that may be.

How much better it would be if we all spoke one language—"don't you know?" Think of the fratricide that might be saved, and the fellowship promoted, if we always knew what the other fellow was getting at!

"Well I'm darned," said a friend of mine the other day upon hearing the meaning of the word "Vols." "I have been saying 'vols' for a week thinking I was swearing in French!"

However, Esperanto is now to the rescue and Americanism will become simply a patois—news not!

Fortunately difference in language is no bar to fraternity and fraternal orders.

Fraternal orders may do infinitely more for the preservation of universal peace. War cannot take place where charity, brotherly love is maintained. Charity nullifies the cause and kind, kind does not believe itself unseemly, and fraternity is its synonym.

Fraternity stands for justice, for right government. Some of our best legislation is the result of fraternal orders. In lodges they have learned the need of their brethren, and followed the principles of true democracy.

Fraternal Orders are alive to the responsibilities and dignity attaching to government positions, and their cry "God give us men."

Thus, like this, demands great hearts, strong minds and willing hands. Men whom the love of office cannot kill. Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy.

Men who possess opinions and a will. Men who have purpose, men who will not lie!

Perhaps, however, the keynote that holds the arch of fraternal orders is the fact of identity or loyalty.

principles for which they stand. Each for all and all for each is the slogan of Fraternal Orders.

To practice this divine selfishness is not so simple as it appears. For it is hard to think of the unselfish and altruistic instead of the personal and immediate. But Fraternal Orders are teaching us that the brotherhood of man is a reality.

The outstretched hand and the open heart are everywhere in evidence, and men and women are learning to walk erect, look up with eyes to the East. They are putting away childish bickerings, foolish fears, and ideas, and rising on stepping stones of their dead selves to higher things.

Fraternal Orders exist for a purpose—the betterment of mankind. And they are evolving a type of men who have sympathy, poise, power and a far reaching prophetic vision—men who are making links in the golden chain of fellowship that binds the whole round world about the feet of God—Baptist.

Pte. R. E. Doran of Benton, returned last Sunday from overseas and in spite of being over thirty months a prisoner in Germany looks well. Pte. Doran enlisted in 1914 with the 9th. C. M. R. at Saskatoon and left for France the following spring. In June 1919 at the second battle of Ypres he was wounded and taken prisoner and sent to a hospital in Germany. After recovering from his wounds he was sent out to work on a canal. Although Pte. Doran does not say much about his experiences it is easy to see that he has passed through some very trying times.
